TESTED HER STRENGTH.

Charley M. was at home from college, spending his summer vacation. The M.'s were people fairly well to do, and Charley was passing the forenoon very comfortably on the cool and shady veranda.

Thousands of women live for a year or two after one is dead; dead to all practical intents and purposes, with the autograph of death inscribed on brow and cheek and lip.

Down by the barn yard fence, in a neglected place, a crop of strong healthy weeds had sprung up and flourished under the summer sun. Left unmolested in the rush of work on the farm, they were fast becoming a blot on the otherwise orderly premises, and that morning Charley's father—the "old man"—had sallied forth and was now making a vigorous assault upon the patch.

Suddenly he left off his work and came up into the yard. Taking a broomstick which happened to be leaning against the veranda, he laid it on the grass, then turned to Charley and said:

"Get down here and see if you can pull me over that stick."

He held in his hand a small chain, in each end of which was inserted a stout stick to serve as a handle. Then the tug began and developed into quite a spirited contest. But at last Charley succeeded in dragging the old man across the line.

"There, that'll do," he said, dropping his end of the chain. "I guess you've got strength enough to pull them weeds down there by the barn."

"I never said a word," said Charley, telling the story afterward, "but before noon there weren't any weeds left standing."—Youth's Companion.

DENSE IGNORANCE.

It is almost impossible to imagine an ignorance so dense as that said to be possessed by the average French conscript from the provinces. Did it not exist, however, his comrade from the city, who writes about garrison life, would hardly have told about it. One day a fiery adjutant questioned Jacques, the provincial:

"Come!" he said, "you are a Frenchman—a soldier; do you know why you are here instead of working in the fields? I ask you why you are here—a soldier? You give no answer. Have you never heard of the Germans?"

"No, my adjutant."

"You have never heard of the Germans? What is Germany?"

"I don't know."

"Are you a Frenchman or a German?"

"I don't know."

"This is wonderful! Where were you born?"

"At Vaucouleurs, my adjutant."

"At Vaucouleurs, and not a patriot! Did no one ever tell you of the invasion?"

"No, my adjutant."

The clerks in the registration offices in many American cities relate wonderful ignorance of would-be American citizens, still it is doubtful whether any one of them has had to deal with a Jacques de Vaucouleurs.

AN UNMENTIONED GIFT.

A gift that was not included in the published list of wedding presents received by a newly married Missouri couple was a receipt for ten years' back subscription due from the groom to one of the neighboring county papers, the generous contribution of the big hearted publisher.—Kansas City Journal

PEACE BY THE MONEY POWER.

There was an article in Wednesday morning's JOURNAL wherein there was made such a presentation as we could then make of a part of the work in the United States of the Duke of Manchester upon the subject of an alliance between England and the United States. The Duke, from his language as published, is persuaded that an alliance will be made in the near future between the nations. We then made such a review of the intent and probable result of the alliance as our space would allow.

There is another phase to the alliance than that which was presented on Wednesday which was not touched upon, and which we will consider in a limited way. This phase, as presented by the Duke, is one of peace in the near future, as a result of the alliance. The peace theory is to be carried forward by the allied powers by the appointment of a court of arbitration, which has been for some time occupying the public mind. We are of the opinion the Duke has been studying our national character.

The court of arbitration mentioned will be created whenever, in the judgment of the allied powers, it may be necessary. It is more than we care at this time to determine whether the proposition about courts of arbitration is impudence or villainy; but we are sure it is one or the other.

In the proposition about courts there is contained a pronounced intent to rule the earth. It should be considered always, as it is a principle largely developed in the race that these courts will only be appointed when it is to the interest of the alliance to make an appointment.

The language used by the Duke is: "Then indeed there would be a chance to talk of general peace; then could they determine whether they [italics are ours] would allow a war and constitute an appeal court for the world." It is probable that the Duke intended to use the word or after the word war; but it may be as the Duke intended it to be, as the earth is presumably in the hands of the allies.

The Duke continues: "For, with the weight of both of these nations cast in the scale, there is no possible combination likely to dispute with them." We ask our readers to carefully read the above extract, and when you have read it to do a little thinking for yourselves, for the purpose of getting from the language used its real meaning. It will be learned without much effort that the leading proposition intended for the people is a state of peace, which meets the humane side there is in our people, that we are inclined to term our weak side, meaning that the people can be reached through their humane nature, without that caustion that is manifested in all else that they engage in doing in a business way.

We are as a nation calculating and cautious in business undertakings, and in these matters we are not liable to be imposed upon, but when our better or humane nature is called on to act, it acts so promptly that reason is not always consulted and the only proposition that receives audience in the mind is, what can we do to aid the interests of a common humanity?

It is the uncautious humane principle there is in us, which gives power and dignity to our national character, that is assailed by the money power for the accomplishment of its purpose to rule the earth and all there is on it.

We have learned that we are attacked upon the defenseless side of our nature because we are largely controlled by our feelings in its humane part, and not by reason, and these feelings control the man and when applied to the people they control the people.

It may be well for our country that we become a little cautious in the alliance matter and let reason have something to do about it, and if we will do so we will be all right and the money power will in the future learn that Uncle Sam was not caught napping and carried away by the sophistry of the agents of that power.

The whole proposition of peace as given is a result of force or of power to demand and enforce obedience to the demand made. The court of arbitration, mentioned by the Duke, is a court that the weakness of the nation or people controlled will not admit of disputing the command of the allied powers, which is peace with vengeance behind it and all over it, when opportunity is presented to satisfy it.

Force is the rule and power to enforce the rule is included in the state. ment "there is no possible combination likely to dispute with them."

We ask our readers to fully consider the humane part of the work as outlined by the Duke of Manchester and when you have done so question yourselves upon the subject of your humane feelings that are so largely developed in each of you. We will continue the investigation of the subject to-morrow.

THE FINS OF GREAT BRITAIN.

There is some excitement in Washington about the sale by Ecuador of the Galapagos Islands to Great Britain. These islands would give the British a commanding position over the western terminus of the inter-oceanic canal over the Isthmus.

Should there be anything in the matter of the purchase of the islands by Great Britain the United States will claim that the Monroe doctrine will apply and England will have to submit to the doctrine or fight, which latter would be much better for Uncle Sam than an alliance with the crowned heads of Europe on money power principles.

The Last Sad Rites.

In the Episcopal church yesterday afternoon the many friends of the late Mrs. Samuel Unsworth gathered to participate in the last sad rites over her mortal remains. The floral offerings were beautiful. Among them were: Wreath from the Vestry; wreath from Mr. Lyman; cross and crown from the faculty of the University; cross from Kirby Unsworth's class and a profusion of flowers from the Woman's Guild.

The services were conducted in a feeling and impressive manner by Rev. Eddy of Carson and Rev. Bellam of Wadsworth.

The pall-bearers were George Wilson, D. B. Lyman, J. E. Bray, G. H. Taylor, F. C. Updike and C. Corris, the vestry of the church.

After the services the remains were left in the church in the care of the Women's Guild until the train for the east was due, on which they are being carried to Greenwood cemetery, Brooklyn, where the interment will take place.

The Paregoric Fiend.

Down the village street, getting one foot before the other with a combination of a jerk and a drag, came a shriveled, tremulous figure.

"See him?" a villager inquired of the summer resident, pointing a shoulder at the shambler figure. "That's a paregoric fiend. He swallows more paregoric than all the babies in the village put together. How'd he get in the way of taking the stuff? Well, you know, there's some old women in our town that think paregoric good for all manner of things that's the matter with your insides, an when daddy had pains from eating too much his wife dosed him with paregoric, an the first thing she knew he couldn't get on without it. He's worse'n a drunkard now, an you can't get within ten feet of him without smellin' the stuff. He had a stroke a spell back, an the doctors tried to scare him about using paregoric, but it wasn't no use. He'll never stop now till he stops breathing."

The Overton railroad is in shape to operate throughout the winter. About a mile of snow sheds have been built and the engines are provided with snow plows.

IS CHARGED WITH

GRAND LARCENY

T. S. Donnelly is Alleged to Have Robbed a Dying
Man.

The preliminary hearing of T. S.
Donnelly on the charge of grand larceny began yesterday in Justice Linn's court. The accused is charged with robbing John Claspell on the night of his death of a sum sufficient to make the charge grand larceny.

The alleged robbery took place on the night of November 27th, at Block & Clausen's Lodging house on Commercial Row. Claspell was dying and Donnelly was nursing him.

A number of witnesses were examined. Dr. Thoma testified that he saw in the possession of the deceased a short time before he died the sum of $100 or $140.

R. C. Leeper testified that Donnelly told him he saw the money testified to Dr. Thoma.

Evidence was introduced to the effect that the defendant was alone with Claspell about the time of the latter's death, after which he informed the porter of the house that the man was dead and that he was going for the Coroner. After defendant left the room was locked until the arrival of the officers.

Nels Block testified that he called the Coroner and that after the body had been placed in the casket the defendant turned over to the Coroner a watch belonging to the dead man.

All the money the Coroner found in the clothing of the deceased he said was $42.45.

Donnelly has been around Reno for a long time. Prior to his incarceration he resided in a cabin on the outskirts of the city.

The examination was continued until 10 o'clock this morning.

District Attorney Williams is prosecuting the case and the prisoner is being defended by Attorney Julian.

Echoes From the Class-room.

The generation of young men and women on whom depends the future of Nevada are preparing for approaching examinations, which mark the close of the semester.

Seniors in the technical schools which embrace a course in electrical units and measurements have been given the option of taking or not taking a test in this subject, as they see fit.

In the school of mines the seniors have constructed and are working a set of gasoline furnaces. This work was done under the supervision of Instructor Jacobs, who has charge of the department during the absence of Prof. Jackson.

Members of the faculty are of the opinion that the standard of classroom work in all departments has been above the average this term, which needs but high grade examinations to bring it to a fitting close.

Wounded by the Rebels.

Leo Leonard, formerly of the Nevada cavalry, had a couple of brushes with the enemy after he was mustered out of the service.

Shortly after receiving his discharge he went beyond the American lines to visit a friend who was stationed at an isolated outpost. While there the little command was surrounded by the enemy, and Leo equipped himself with a rifle and a hundred rounds of ammunition.

The fight was short but sharp, and in the engagement Leonard received a flesh wound in the leg. It didn't trouble him much at the time, but later blood poisoning developed and he was a pretty sick boy for a time.
This is what necessitated his return to his native land.

A Good Show.

The Virginia Enterprise contains the following: "Another big house greeted the Shirley company at the opera house last night and the audience witnessed a splendid rendition of 'Trilby,' the company winning frequent applause. George McQuarrie as Svengali was a perfect piece of work and proved him to be a most capable actor. The Trilby of Miss Jessie Shirley was the equal of any ever witnessed in this city. Thurman De La Maty, a Reno boy, appeared in the character of Taffy, and made a very favorable impression."

This excellent company will open a week's engagement at McKissick's Opera House, beginning Monday, December 18th.

An Epidemic of Diarrhoea.

Mr. A. Sanders, writing from Cocoa-nut Grove, Fla., says there has been quite an epidemic of diarrhoea there.
He had a severe attack and was cured by four doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says he also recommended it to others and they say it is the best medicine they ever used. For sale by Wm. Pinniger.

THE BIG TAX.

PAYERS OF WASHOE

Corporations and Individuals That Are Assessed on Large Valuations.

The legal date for payment of the first installment of taxes has passed and Treasurer Boyd is busy footling up his rolls. There will not be many delinquencies this year, but it is noticeable that fewer property owners than usual paid their entire taxes. They were content to liquidate the first installment merely.

There are some big taxpayers in Washoe county. The Central Pacific company, of course, tops the list. Its first installment was paid by means of a check for $10,603. The V. & T. road put up $2,374.82 as its share. The narrow gauge was let off with $760.41.

The local banking corporations contributed their share toward the expenses of the county municipality.

The Washoe County bank is down for $4,037.25 this year, and the Nevada Bank was called upon for $8,275.20.

Reno Water, Land & Light company is taxed in the sum of $1,413.68. The Reno Mill and Lumber company escapes with the payment of $316 and the Riverside Mill company is down for $708.

The Sierra Nevada Wood & Lumber company cheerfully plunked down its first installment on $375.50, and the Virginia and Gold Hill Water company paid as a tax on its pipe line in this county the round sum of $1,639.70.

The largest individual tax payer in Washoe county is Senator Flanigan, whose contribution this year is $1, 589.60.

D. C. Wheeler and George W. Mapes are close to the Senator in second and third places respectively.

Anglers' Club is Necessary.

Since the time of placing fishways on dams in Truckee river in this State, there has been some difficulty in preventing the obstruction of ladders in the neighborhood of Reno, by placing boards and drift at their head, thereby shutting off the water.

Why such a violation of the law is allowed someone should be called upon to explain, as it is incumbent upon the owners or occupants of all dams where the law requires such fishways to be provided, to keep the same in repair and open and free from obstructions to the passage of fish at all seasons of the year.

The authorities cannot find any time to devote toward bringing such violations of the law to an end. Therefore, to promote our fishing interests the true sportsmen must join together.

We have excellent codes of law for the protection of fish and they could readily be enforced by an anglers' club.

Announcement.

I have just received a complete line of working and dress shirts of the latest patterns and styles, which I will sell ticular attention to a working shirt I am handling. It is undoubtedly the best working shirt that was ever sold on the Coast for the money. Call and examine the same.

I have all the latest patterns in golf and negligee shirts, in silks and madras cloths.

I am pleased to announce that I have secured the agency of the Wheeler overalls, famous on this Coast as being the best fitting and most durable overall on the market. It is riveted, triple-sewed and made of the heaviest and best denim. Try a pair and be convinced.

Free employment office in connection with the store.

Millions Given Away,

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land which is not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine; and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, bronchitis, hoarseness and all diseases of the throat chest and lungs are surely cured by it.

Call on S. J. Hodgkinson, Druggist, and get a trial bottle. Regular size, 50 cents and $1. Every bottle guaranteed or price refunded.

Corner lot Sold.

Yesterday morning the large lot on the corner of Center street and Commercial Row was sold by S. Bowman to Charles May and Alex Dromic. The consideration is said to have been $3,500. Immediately after the great fire $11,000 in gold coin was refused for this property.

The new owners are very reticent about the matter but a hint was dropped that a three story brick will soon adorn this corner.

IS IT RIGHT

For an Editor to Recommend Patent Medicines?

From Sylvan Valley News, Brevard,
N. C.

It may be a question whether the editor of a newspaper has the right to publicly recommend any of the various proprietary medicines which flood the market, yet as a preventive of suffering we feel it a duty to say a good word for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We have known and used this medicine in our family for twenty years and have always found it reliable. In many cases a dose of this remedy would save hours of suffering while a physician is awaited.
We do not believe in depending implicitly on any medicine for a cure, but we do believe that if a bottle of Chamberlain's Diarrhoea Remedy were kept on hand and administered at the incipition of an attack much suffering might be avoided and in very many cases the presence of physician would not be required. At least this has been our experience during the past twenty years. For sale by Wm. Pinniger.
